Millions of songs in the palm of your hand, no storage problem e You don't even have to pay-this is the promise of the best free musical apps. There are also many podcasts and other non-musical content in which to get the ears. The free level offers over 120 million tracks, mix, podcasts and more, even if We cannot guarantee the quality of each (this is the problem with the "emerging" artists). And the advantage is that you can connect with friends and even the artists directly on the platform, make playlists and obtain tracklist with attention to your tastes. Of course, there are advertisements, as you would expect, but not as many as you could fear. Extra as Download for offline listening are only for a fee, so you are limited to the streaming of the selection of the service, but there is a considerable catalog to choose from, the layout is beautiful and clean and e e The selection of music videos is obviously without rivals. Audio quality door up to 9216 kbps (e.g. hi-res) supporting tide masters through Mqa Authentication (Sqa) technology. You will have to connect your iPhone to your computer using a USB cable and manage iTunes songs. FMA has a relatively small collection of songs, but they are in a large variety of genres and available for download. There are also local and specific radio stations of the genre to choose from, so there should be something for everyone. The mobile app for this level is also a little limited, even if not more than any of its rivals. It offers a series of stations, including some BBC, NPR, Radio and C-Span Radio, as well as news of artists of the caliber of CNN and Fox News and a series of podcasts. The basic level of Tidal's tide family has also seen the same increase as standard bit rate flows. The higher level, previously, "À HIFI À », is now known as à e À -" HIFI TIFI Plus à "and remains À £ 19.99 ($ 19.99, au $ 23.99) per month. Not only is the app free, but you can also listen to all its songs for free (even if the musical reader shows the ads). All the music in the archive is free of charge and the FMA app gives you access to all its tracks, organized by gender. If you want a free music streaming, Spotify probably your first call port.
